

Let 'em Fly

Copyright A Bear & His Music / Dave Hebert (BMI) 1998, 2024.

Young David was a shepherd boy, his story's often told
His aim was sure and certain and his heart was pure as gold
Well, David and his trusty sling would guard the flock all day
And he'd make up songs 'n sing to God and pray

Now, one day Jess (his daddy) took young David out to stalk...
A lion, fierce and mighty, had been praying' on their flock
Ol' Jessy turned to Heaven as that lion turned their way
And, shakin' in his sandals, Dave could hear his daddy say...

(Chorus)

He's a mountain but I'm an eagle
He stands taller but I fly high
Though my knees beneath me shiver I got stones here in my quiver
And the One who will deliver me is nigh
So all I gotta do is let 'em fly

The next thing that occurred you've heard so I've no need to tell
That Philistine insulted God and angered Dave, as well
Goliath lost his head—fell dead—when David drew his sling
And people who were there would swear they heard young David sing...

(Repeat Chorus)

(Bridge)

Well, David's gone these many years but still his name lives on His legend grew because he knew Who to depend upon
So, if you've got Goliath staring down at you today
Well, you think about that shepherd boy and how he prayed this way...

(Repeat Chorus)
